Subject: School Trip

.....

Hi Aunt Joan,

Can I ask for your help? This weekend, I am going camping with my family. I really want to go, but I am worried about my cat, Bonny. Can I ask you to watch her for me? You don't need to give her food and water every day because I have a machine that gives her food and water automatically. But she needs some attention, so please play with her and take care of her. The best news is cats are clean, so she doesn't smell bad. She wants to meet you! Please write back soon and let me know if you can help.

Thanks,
Betty

From: Joan Harris

Subject: I can help!

.....

Hi Betty,

Camping sounds exciting! Sure, I can take care of Bonny when you go. Can you bring her to my house tomorrow? Can you bring her food and water machine, her toilet and some cat food? I will buy some new cat toys that she can play with. And I promise I will hold her and take care of her after I come home from work. I am excited to meet her!

See you soon,
Aunt Joan

No.12 Why doesn't Aunt Joan need to give the cat food and water every day?

- A) Because cats don't eat and drink much.
- B) Because cats are clean and don't need water.
- C) Because a machine will give the cat food and water.
- D) Because eating and drinking is expensive.

No.13 What does Betty need to bring to Aunt Joan's house?

- A) Food and water.
- B) Toys and food machine.
- C) Water and toys.
- D) Food machine and toilet.

Siberian Tigers

Siberian tigers are the world's largest cats. They are beautiful and powerful animals, but like many big cats they are in danger of disappearing from the Earth.

They live in eastern Russia's forests, though some live in China and North Korea. The weather where they live is much colder than that of other tigers, but there are some good points about the areas where they live. There aren't many humans who live around northern forests, and there is a lot of food for Siberian tigers to eat. The forests are very large, so the tigers have a lot of places they can go to eat or sleep.

Tigers are the largest of all wild cats and are known for their power. There were once nine kinds of tigers on Earth, but three died out during the 20th century. Over the last hundred years, the number of tigers has reduced because people cut down trees and hunted animals. Tigers are hunted for body parts that are used in traditional Chinese medicine. All six kinds of remaining tigers are in danger, and many protection programs are in place. Humans killing Siberian tigers is still a big problem.

Siberian tigers usually live alone. They are powerful hunters that travel many miles to find food. A hungry tiger can eat as much as 30 kilograms in one night, although they usually eat less. That's a lot of food!

- No. 14 Siberian tigers are
- A) found in Russia and India.
 - B) living in big groups.
 - C) eating 30 kg a week.
 - D) the biggest of all tigers.

- No. 15 How are the tigers' body parts used?
- A) They are used for dishes.
 - B) They are used as Chinese medicine.
 - C) They are used for clothes.
 - D) They are used for fun.

No. 16 What is one good point of the forests for Siberian tigers?

No. 17 What are Siberian tigers known for?

No. 18 How many kinds of tigers are living now?

TOPIC

Which do you like better, studying alone or studying with your friends?
Answer the question and give TWO reasons. You must write 25 words or more.

(例) I like studying alone better than studying with friends. First of all, it is difficult to study with friends because we will talk a lot. That makes it hard to do our homework. Second, if I study alone, it will be quiet and I can concentrate and finish my homework on time.

Therefore, I prefer studying alone.
