Subject: Questions
Date: July 25th

Hello. I will be staying at your hotel for a week starting next Tuesday. I have some questions, so I'm writing this e-mail to you today.

I will arrive at the airport at 9:00 a.m. and will arrive at the hotel at 10:00 a.m. On your website, it says that I can check in at 3:00 p.m. Can I leave my luggage with you before then? I have to go to a conference center at 11:00 a.m. and I don't want to take my luggage there.

And, when I made a reservation online, I booked a plan without breakfast. However, I want to change it to a plan with breakfast. I don't have any food allergies. I like both Western and Japanese food. If possible, it would be great if they could be served alternately every other day.

I'm looking forward to spending a week in Japan.

See you soon,
John

The History of Space Development

People have long been interested in space, looking up at the beautiful stars and the moon in the night sky. However, it is very difficult to go to space. This is because space is very far away from our planet Earth. Scientists and engineers have done a lot of research and created a vehicle called a rocket. The rocket can fly with the power of a big engine. Humans have used these rockets to send satellites into space.

In 1957, *the Soviet Union sent the world's first artificial satellite into space. This was a great achievement, and people all over the world were amazed. The United States also launched a major project called the "Apollo Program," aiming to send *astronauts to the moon. In 1969, American astronauts landed on the moon with Apollo 11. Neil Armstrong was the first person to set foot on the moon. He said, "That's one small step for man, but one giant leap for mankind."

Later, a spacecraft called *the Space Shuttle was invented. It is a spacecraft that can be used many times, and many people have been able to go to space. The International Space Station (ISS) was also built. It is like a big house in space, where astronauts from different countries live and work together.

Space exploration is still ongoing, and more amazing adventures await us in the future. Space is an unknown world to us, but humanity can use science and technology to explore it. Only humans may be able to solve the mysteries and secrets of the universe and learn new things about it.

3 ライティングテスト (16点)

I agree that tourist attractions should charge an admission fee for the maintenance of the Japanese environment. I have two reasons to support my opinion. First, tourism is an important industry for Japan and monetary investment is required to keep the industry profitable. For example, the aforementioned admission fees would help greatly to support the industry and allow it to continue to be profitable in the future. Second, environmental protection is paramount for the continued success of both the tourism industry and humanity as a whole and this too requires investment. For instance, by charging an admission fee, tourist attraction operators can re-invest that money into the protection and maintenance of the environment. For the above reasons, I believe that tourist attractions should charge an admission fee.
